

Theology for All of Us

Steven Ackley

Sundays @ 6:00p | Room B2403

Let's face it, the term theology is attractive for some and intimidating for others. But the study of God is important for all of us. Using the book Do You Believe? by Paul David Tripp as a guide, participants will work through six primary doctrines revealed in Scripture and the implications for everyday life. This class will be part one of two.

Objections to Christianity

Various Leaders

Sundays @ 6:00p | Angell Room

When we share the gospel with others, we can expect questions and objections. Being prepared for others' objections can give us the confidence to speak openly about our faith in Christ. This course is designed to help you think through some of the objections you may encounter and how you might respond to others with these questions.

Rethinking Sexual Discipleship

Don Schmidt

Sundays @ 6:00p | Room B2405

This 7-week study will be based on Dr. Juli Slattery's book, Rethinking Sexuality: God's Design and Why It Matters. As you look at the landscape of Christian life and ministry, sexuality represents perhaps the greatest arena of shame and confusion. How should we respond to the changing sexual beliefs and moral standards around us? How do we equip our children when the culture talks endlessly about sex?

This study will equip you to have healthy conversations around biblical sexuality and provide you with practical ways to apply God's truth to real-life sexual issues. You will also learn why reclaiming the biblical narrative of sexuality is critical to reaching the world and equipping God's people.
